Proposed Use

Explain what you want to do with the property. (Do you want to build a building, subdivide a lot, have a business, ...).

Explain why you need the Zoning Board to let you do it. (The building will be too close to the lot line; the Planning Board wouldn't approve your subdivision; your lot is in a zoning district where businesses aren't allowed; ...).

Be specific. Identify the section or sections of the Zoning Ordinance that apply. If lot sizes or configurations or building placements are relevant, provide a scale drawing or plan showing all relevant information, such as lot lines, setbacks, present and proposed structures on your lot and neighboring lots, etc.

Description of proposed use and need for ZBA approval (attach additional pages as necessary):

We seek to replace a fire escape on the back of the building that does not meet the building code. The proposed fire escape will meet code and not violate any zoning ordinance. However, the front of the building, which was constructed in the 1800's, does not meet current setbacks.

Application for a Variance, Page 1 of 2

When, because of the specific characteristics of your property, the Zoning Ordinance unreasonably restricts your use of your property without a corresponding public benefit, the Zoning Board may grant a Variance, which modifies or sets aside particular requirements of the Ordinance.

The specific section of the Zoning Ordinance to be varied: 17.1.e

The requirement in that section that you want to change, and how you want it changed:

The ordinance says a non-conforming structure may not be extended or enlarged. We need to enlarge the existing fire escape in order to meet building code.

To grant a variance, the Zoning Board must find that it will satisfy each of the following five conditions. Please explain why you believe that each of the following statements is true (attach additional pages as necessary).

These five conditions come from the New Hampshire statutes and decisions of the state Supreme Court. Unless you are familiar with Zoning law, the language of these conditions probably does not mean what you think it means. If you have not applied for a variance before, we recommend that you consult with the Wilton Land Use Administrator or obtain professional advice.

1. Granting the variance would not be contrary to the public interest: _____

Re-building the stairs will not harm the public interest in any way.

2. Granting the variance would be consistent with the spirit of the Ordinance: _____

Re-building the stairs makes them safer, which is consistent with the spirit of the ordinance.

3. Granting the variance would do substantial justice: _____

Denying the variance would prevent the applicants from complying with current building code, and force the existing stairs, which are non-compliant with building code to remain.

4. The proposed use will not diminish surrounding property values: _____

The unit already has a fire escape. Replacing it with a newer and safer staircase will have no impact on abutting property values.

5. Literal enforcement of the provision of the ordinance would result in unnecessary hardship.
Complete section 5(a), 5(b), OR 5(c):

5(a) i. Owing to special conditions of the property that distinguish it from other properties in the area:

ii. no fair and substantial relationship exists between the general public purposes of the ordinance provision and the specific application of that provision to the property:

iii. and the proposed use is a reasonable one:

5(b) Owing to special conditions of the property that distinguish it from other properties in the area, the property cannot be reasonably used in strict conformance with the ordinance, and a variance is therefore necessary to enable a reasonable use of it

The house was constructed long before zoning came into effect. It is not reasonable to force it to comply with front setbacks in order to remedy a building code situation that falls well away from any setback line.

5(c) Hardship resulting from a physical disability.

i. The variance is necessary to make reasonable accommodations to allow a person with a recognized physical disability to reside in or regularly use the premises:

ii. The variance is in harmony with the general purpose and intent of the zoning ordinance:
