43 Chairman Faiman stated that the site visit is a continuation of the public hearing on the case and open to the public. Its purpose is to assist the board members and other interested parties to become familiar with 44 the property involved in the application. Board members and other interested parties may, through the 45 board chairperson, ask questions about and the applicant's representatives may point out site details 46 pertaining to the application, such as what the stream looks like, how deep it is, how wide it is, where is 47 48 the bridge is going to be located, where does the nature trail lead, where is the existing easement, property boundaries, and the like. No other testimony will be taken, and no other discussion should occur. 49 He summarized the site visit as being able to relate to the physical properties of the lot in relation to the 50 51 application and plans provided.

52

53 Chairman Faiman said the site visit is not a substitute for the public hearing. Comments about the case, 54 about the laws, about all other issues, can be presented at the public hearing on Tuesday, April 8, 2025.

- Chairman Faiman instructed attendees to direct questions to him to assure pertinent information becomes part of the permanent record. He said discussions outside of this direction could not be guaranteed to become part of that record.
- 60 Chairman Faiman introduced the Board members who were present.

62 Case #03/11/2025-02

The Dawn Ryan Revocable Trust of 2021 has requested a special exception under section 11.4(b) of the Wilton Zoning Ordinance and/or a special exception under section 11.3 of the Wilton Zoning Ordinance to allow the creation of a nature trail, including a boardwalk over Mill Brook, on Lot A-47-1, 74 Stagecoach Road.

- 67 Greg Mattison walked the group along the side lot line, through a path in the stone wall, onto the property
- toward the pond pointing out centerline stakes, and areas that had been delineated for floodplain and
- 69 wetlands. He said this was where the proposed nature trail would start. He traversed further toward Mill
- 70 Brook to the proposed location of the Puncheon. Brian Pratt described the Puncheon as a boardwalk
- twenty feet in length and eight feet wide over Mill Brook and the most impactful part of the entire nature trail. He said the trail through any critical area would be constructed pursuant to the Best Management Practices (BMP's) from the New Hampshire Trail Construction and Maintenance Manual. He indicated that the wetland area leading up to the Puncheon would be built up with gravel, drains, and construction textiles that allow for the flow of excess water from a severe rain event. He said that construction of the proposed nature trail might include the removal of low-lying brush and saplings. He said it was not their intent to remove large trees or alter the surface of already walkable areas.

Greg Mattison took the group back to its starting point and then along the easement to an existing bridge that allows the property owner access to her property on the other side of Mill Brook. He noted the reason for the proposed second bridge was to allow the property owner access to a backlot which legally could not be accessed by the first bridge. He noted that the second bridge would be higher than the first bridge and used for walking and snow mobiles. Greg pointed to some marsh land they intended to avoid in the construction of the proposed nature trail and added that log corduroys would be created to traverse over mucky, saturated soils they may confront along the proposed nature trail.

The group was then directed along an old snow mobile trail that ran from one side of the property owner's lot to the other to snow mobile trail #13 maintained by the Hoover Trust. A short walk along this trail and a hike back onto the subject property and the group was in the inaccessible back lot. Greg Mattison noted it had been discovered that snow mobile trail #13, thought to be off the applicant's property, ran through the applicant's property. He said it was not the intent of the applicant to change this.

95 Chairman Faiman called for final questions or comments regarding the property.

97 3. Adjournment

98 Chairman Faiman closed the public site visit at 10:45 a.m.
